

Waiting

Norah Jones

Hush now, watch the stars fall
Into a fire wall
I am waiting here
Waiting for you to come homeSinking embers glow
Melting icy snow
And I am waiting here
Waiting for you to come homeAnd I watch them burn
When will I ever learn?
If I wait it doesn't mean
You will returnAnd I watch them burn
When will I ever learn?
If I wait it doesn't mean
You will returnNow all the stars have gone
Faded into cracks of dawn
And I'm still waiting here
Waiting for you to come homeI am waiting here
Waiting for you to come home
