On Time

"On Time" by CriteriaCapsized by the wave of sentimental messages you send
You know I don't deserve it
A heart turned from dark to lightI'm not afraid, I've set high hopes
At a stage where others just go homeSo I try to be more observant, to question the purpose
To leave and luster hope
The stars don't hold cards tonightI'm not afraid, I've set high hopes
When others would rather just go homeI'm trying to save a semblance of history made
All I can say is you're here in my heart
If we make a pact to begin this phase
All I can say is you're here in my heartOn time, you're just in time
You're just in time, you're just in time
You're just in -
Heart turned from dark to light!
Time, you're just in time... (repeat)
