

Jailbird

Red Smiley

Dixie is a scourge and a scar
And a girl in my heart and a state of mind
 Jesus is the man with a plan
He's a short haired Mexican friend of mine
This small town crowd should've dragged you down
 Can't leave your past behind
Wipers in the rain tap out time
 Coming up on a new state line
 I wanna be a jailbird
From the prison of my own damn mind
 Gonna get me a fast car
 Set out and see what I can find
Brick up the well of tears and disappear
 Leave myself behind
 Gonna be a jailbird
From the prison of my own damn mind
 Midnight, take a short cut
 Through the downtown cemetery
 No stepping on graves
Check the statue of the Virgin Mary
She's catching moonlight in the shadows
 Revealing spider webs
 Can you see the black widow
 Hung between our lady's hands?
 I wanna be a jailbird
From the prison of my own damn mind
 Gonna get me a fast car
 Set out and see what I can find
Brick up the well of tears and disappear
 Leave myself behind
 Gonna be a jailbird
From the prison of my own damn mind
 Now used to be when I was young
 I was so hungry for oblivion
 My thoughts would linger
 Like fingers in a deadly web
But in time as sorrow showed it's face
 In kind I learned to ache for grace
 To work and pray to one day

Be delivered whole, alive and free
I wanna be a jailbird
From the prison of my own damn mind
Gonna get me a fast car
Set out and see what I can find
Brick up the well of tears and disappear
Leave myself behind
Gonna be a jailbird
From the prison of my own damn mind
