

Don't Leave Tonight

Frankie Chavez

Since you started loving me
My world got a little bit better
Since I started loving you
I know your world got a little bit better too
So please don't leave tonight
Cause I know we can make it all right
Since you've been gone
I know your world crumbled into pieces
And what if I told you
That my world crumbled into pieces too
So please don't leave tonight
Cause I know we can make it all right
Since you started loving me
My world got a little bit better
And since I started loving you
I know your world got a little bit better too
So please don't leave tonight
Cause I know we can make it all right
