

I'll Remember Your Name

Kenny Loggins

You believed in me on faith
I still see your smile on your face
And when people tell me nothing lasts forever
I tell 'em 'bout the summers of you and me together
You knew me like nobody knew me I'll remember your name
Into this world of broken hearts
I will carry your flame
Wherever the lonely are You kept your promise all your life
And now I give you mine
Even when everything has changed
I'll remember your name When I had to leave, you let me
God knows I damn near crashed and burned, just tryin'
To break free and when everything I do didn't help
And I couldn't even believe in myself
You saw me when nobody saw me You kept your promise
All your life and now I give you mine
Even when everything has changed
I'll remember your name You picked me up, you let me fall
You taught me about trust, just let go of it all
How everything, all I'll ever really need
Is right inside of me wherever the lonely are I will carry your flame
Wherever the lonely are You picked me up, you let me fall
You taught me about trust, just let go of it all
How to love a wife and raise a family
The man I wanna be's already inside of me

Songwriters

Kenny Loggins; Richard Marx
Published by
CHI-BOY MUSIC

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>