TV Waves

Fruit Bats

There is peace in the belly of the beast

There is no alarm in the least

For a thousand and one flashlights in one place

And the glow of the thousand TV wavesOut on the great green wash

There's foam where spiders walk and

Ride the tides to take them home to empty webs and

From the land of sky blue waters to the belly of the beastThere is calm in the valley of the dogs

There is light in the caves and in the bogs

For a thousand and one flashlights in one place

And the glow of the thousand TV wavesAnd the glow of the thousand TV waves

And the fires of each forgotten space
