Tell Me

Aerosmith

I think it's time to realize it's done
I guess I have to accept it
I was never the one
Yeah, it was so good
I thought I fell into someone else's dream
Yeah, but I let it be my, thought to let be yours
Now nothing's ever what it seems
I thought I felt it all around
But now it's laying there on the ground
Why was it there for me, but not for you?
Tell me, tell me,
It comes as bliss of love, now I'm sitting here
And you're so far gone
I'm staring down the page in a magazine
I looked up at the TV, but it's just too discreet
When we're together, I thought it was ecstasy
Oh I can tell the sun's still shining

But shadows are all I can see
And everywhere I go, I'll never see your face I know
What could I say, that could make you come back this way
Tell me, tell me,
It comes as bliss of love, now I'm sitting here
And you're so far gone
Now I know I should have known
And I see I could have seen
You gotta rest your soul
I need to know, I want to find out
If your fields are still green, whoa
Now I hope that what I have found
Could somehow be true
Why is it such a long long way and you
Tell me, tell me
It comes as bliss of love, now I'm sitting here
And you're so far gone

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/