Tactile (Feels Nice Mix)

Mesh

I say the wrong thing
And you just listen
We make our own world
And it glistensAnd you still trust me
When I'm silent
You never judge me
When I'm violentBut when I need you
I really need you
Your lies are going
'round and 'round my head
When I need you
I really need you
I can't be sure
That it won't hurt more
It's just so hard to hear you
When the world is crashing down
around my ears
It's just so hard to hear you
When the world is crashing down around my earsYou take the whole man without condition
You wrote the whole plan around my visionAnd I'm destructive, too much ambition
You give me comfort and ammunition
But when I need you
I really need you
Your lies are going
'round and 'round my head
When I need you
I really need you
I can't be sure
That it won't hurt moreIt's just so hard to hear you
When the world is crashing down
around my ears
It's just so hard to hear you
When the world is crashing down around my earsIt's just the wrong day for receiving It's just the wrong day to believe in

In anything at all To feel humble to feel small To feel grateful for the callI thought I knew you better than anyone
I thought I knew you better than anyone(When the world is crashing down around my ears)It's just so hard to hear you
around my ears(I only wanted to hear)
than anyone
(I only wanted to hear)
than anyone
than anyone
