

You

Vast

Your dress looks good on you my love
And your house looks like it's heaven
Why are there so many people outside of it
Everything you have will be
Oh, you can't take anything with you except the love
The love I have for you
Your eyes look like they're from God
And your face looks like it's from God
Why are you going to be outside eternity?
Everything we know will be
Oh, you can't take anything with you except the love
The love I have for you
I know you want to
