

Pharaoh's Repentance

Visions of Atlantis

For all my debts I have to pay Remains for me now to explain For every tortured soul to pray a murderer till my last day Bells are ringing, day has come for me and all my greedy sons for every cruelty to atone Eternal flames - my home No release from the sins he made Repentance now
for him comes too late His only wish to turn back time
and never get into this crime reign with heart instead of blood Revenge is written in their eyes to end my reign and stop my lies to spill my blood over my throne and burn down all I've ever owned Isis, Osiris all the gods there's no excuse for my own faults no one to blame instead of my sentence already signed No release
from the sins he made
for him comes too late No release
reign with heart instead of blood
