

Lilacs

Matt Costa

You were right
I was up all night thinking about you
Dreamed I choked
On your kaleidoscope, they still look deadlyMy fatal flower
How the tigers all laughed
As I ran along the well-worn pathThe sapphire eye looks
Down on my lilacs, down on my lilacs
Down on my lilacs, down on me
Down on me, down onIn sincere
As we rolled for years in turning barrels
I washed my hands in the lake
As she blew it all away with Roman candlesSo take your fever
Let me wallow alone
The callous on your eyes have grownThe sapphire eye looks
Down on my lilacs, down on my lilacs
Down on my lilacs, down on me
Down on me, down onAnd your faults have me stoned
Paying rent to your ghost
Torn up by a frightened little girl
I thought that you were right
So I was up all night thinking about youI thought you were right
You were right, you were right
You wereYou were right
And I was up all night thinking about you
And I couldn't speak
Covered with bees, you flew above meFigure it all out
I think you've had enough time
I've had long enough to change my mindThe sapphire eye looks
Down on my lilacs, down on my lilacs
Down on my lilacs, down on me
Down on me, down onAnd your faults have me stoned
Paying rent to your ghost
Torn up by a frightened little girl
I thought that you were right
And I was up all night thinking about youYou were right
So I was up all night thinking about you
I thought you were right
You were right, you were right
You were
