

Open Your Eyes

Camp Chayolei Hamelech

The siren sounds loudly through the streets
Chassidim rush to try and claim their seats
The crowd still grows in 770
They all await to see the king

A path is cleared, the Rebbe takes his chair
L'chaim, joyful singing fills the air
His loving gaze on everybody there
The Rebbe's voice, so loud and clear

My dear chassidim, her zich tzu
I know that you'll pull through
Ker a velt forever, to change the world anew
Our mission now is clear, to reveal Moshiach here
Open your eyes, the Geulah has arrived

All at once they poured out to the streets
Tefillin on the Yidden that they meet
Menorahs standing tall and burning bright
Shabbos candles light up the night

With new meaning, they march on faithfully
Preparing for Moshiach our king
Carrying on the mission joyfully
As the Rebbe's voice still does ring

My dear chassidim, her zich tzu
I know that you'll pull through
Ker a velt forever, to change the world anew
Our mission now is clear, to reveal Moshiach here
Open your eyes, the Geulah has arrived
