

Jealousy

The Waifs

Now's the time you're leaving you got to do what you got to do When you come in from the cold I'll still be warm for you And I won't be bending backwards like you never done for me When you look at what's left inside You've only got your jealousy It's wearing me thin, all this trying to please I'm looking within and I can see for miles And I'm trying to grin as I'm trying to please I keep looking within, you know I can still see for miles If you go and play your games of jealousy Like a player in a show you never gonna wait around for what remains I don't want to deal with that again It's your jealousy baby
You got to lose it

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>