

Tin Horns

Ashes you leave

The twelve raise their tin horns
    Into the wake of dawn
But as the tides rise they realize
    The march has long gone home
    And the lonely melody tunes again

To the consonance of the windAs we die, the sun and earth do shine,

    Will the stars remain if you and I
    Leave earth like leaves on wind?

Like waves in the brineTin horns make us sleep

    We never wanted to stay

    We never wanted to...Like a wreck of time

        An abandoned ship
        Beneath us splits the void
        But we never look back
