

You Don't Wanna Know

Jessica Vale

Baby, cry away, isn't that what you say?
Like it hurts
[Incomprehensible]
So much so soon It lingers in my brain, I've lost a past
By moving us too fast
I don't know what to do
Am I losing me or am I losing you? Didn't mean to make you cry
But you don't wanna know
Didn't mean to say goodbye
But you don't wanna know It's a complication to this situation
You've got to let it show If I couldn't love you
I only loved the world
But then I crossed those cold seas
And came up on a pearl It's my wish
We'd always live in bliss
So how can this be true
That I'm losing me or was I losing you? Didn't mean to say goodbye
But you don't wanna know
Didn't mean to make you cry
But you don't wanna know It's a complication to this situation I didn't mean to make you cry
But you don't wanna know
I didn't mean to say goodbye
But you don't wanna know It's a complication to this situation
You've got to let it show
That you don't wanna know
You've got to let it go
