

Lost

Pat McGee Band

I guess it was yesterday when I found you there
Alone, I wait for you, I feel I should
Maybe just possible you'll turn your head
Look at me the way the angels would
I'm thinkin' 'bout you and I could burn these times
And let our souls act out the only way
Under the running sky, colors fade into the night
Holdin' back this day I have lost myself in only you
Hold on through
I am the one who still burns for you, burns for you Thinkin' 'bout yesterday, the sun went down
Painted there, you lie into the sea
I wish I were next to you lying there
Breathin' from my heart and how I feel
We're taken to a distant place
Desire is the only one, we know who feels the same
The moon is up and the sun is up
And the sky bleeds over our hearts first this day, the [Incomprehensible] I have lost myself in only you
Hold on through
I am the one who still burns for you, burns for you
Burns for you, [Incomprehensible] I guess it was yesterday, complete me
And surround me, in your eyes you hold me still
You got to believe the hands of love have pushed us
Turned us upside down into the sun, into the sun I have lost myself in only you
Hold on through
I am the one who still burns for you, burns for you Yes, I have lost myself in only you
Hold on through
I am the one who still burns for you, burns for you
Burns for you
