

Higher Ground

Lianna Rose

Rains coming down on the southern side of town
I can feel it falling on my face
Suns still shining on that northern hill
I can see it, wanna touch it, but its all in vein
Oh

My knees fall down, down on this dirty ground,
Stand up, I try but all I do is cry
I need to find me some higher ground
Oh I need to find me some higher ground

Ashamed I stand, cursing my bleeding hands
For holding on so tight
Yeah I know, I should of always known
If it aint right, it just aint right

Whoa whoa I need to be higher
Whoa whoa I need to be higher

Wasted too many tears, drowning in a world of fear
All wrapped up with deceit
Hurting me, cursing me yeah you didn't deserve me did you baby
But watch out, cause karma aint sweet no
