

Breaking Away

Rosedove

Don't wait my friend, we better don't think twice

Time to fell the prison guard, you gotta realize

No turning back again, therefore it's all too late

    New horizons wait

I know the time has come to leave your past behind

And now the time has come to stop them controlling your mind

    Breaking away

    All we can do now is break away

    Otherwise she will be dying

    While both of us are lying here in chains

    Breaking away

    All we can do now is break away

    Oh, otherwise she will be dying

    While both of us are lying caught in chains

    Breaking away

    Always been a novice in quest for paradise

    Hope they will forgive me for I apostatize

I can't be no hypocrite, can't wear a masquerade

    New horizons wait

    And now the time has come to go another way

To learn for life and to grow ripe and prevent the decay

    Breaking away

    All we can do now is break away

    Otherwise she will be dying

    While both of us are lying here in chains

    Breaking away

    All we can do now is break away

    Oh, otherwise she will be dying

    While both of us are lying here caught in chains

    Breaking away

    It is so hard to lay down what I've been

    But I must go even if my way leads to Hades

    Breaking away

    All we can do now is break away

    Oh, otherwise she will be dying

    While both of us are lying caught in chains

    Breaking away

    All we can do now is break away

    Oh, otherwise she will be dying

While both of us are lying caught in chains
