

Once in a Blue Moon

Nat King Cole

The room is empty
The lights are dim
And my heart wonders
If I'll ever see you againMy tears are hungry
For an open door
When your arms held me
I never felt that way beforeI'll be waiting
I'll be watching
Under a blue moon
The taste of heaven
Only happens
Once in a blue moonOnce in a blue moonDo you remember
When the wind blew free
And we fit together
So naturallyIf the wind closes a door
It will open another
