

All We Had

Daylight Dies

This pen
the cruellest blade
the power of
merciless words to endear with clinched fist clinched teeth and burning words
I take my leave Embers
memories
charred remnants
of all that we had the demise of all we were Wisdom
of futile years affinity ceasing its wintering of me a final look
one last glance
and burning words I take my leave Embers
charred remnants
all we were
