Time Will Let You Go, All Alone, I Break

Raised Fist

Time will let you go
All alone I break
Time will let you go
All alone I breakI don't know why you're wasting your own time
I don't know how you see this when you're not bleeding with me
Is believing in me, with nothingness in everything
You're leaving with meI don't know why you're changing all the time
You're trying to slow down and fall behind
All this tension, no comprehension
Losing yourself in delusional dimensionsTime will let you go
All alone I break
Time will let you go
All alone I breakI don't know why you're wasting your own time
I don't know how you see this when you're not bleeding with me
Is believing in me, with nothingness in everything
You're leaving with meI don't know why you're changing all the time
You're trying to slow down and fall behind
All this tension, no comprehension
Losing yourself in delusional dimensionsTime all alone when I break
Controlling my breath for my own sakeI don't know why you're wasting your own time
I don't know how you see this when you're not bleeding with me
Is believing in me, with nothingness in everything
You're leaving with meI don't know why you're changing all the time
You're trying to slow down and fall behind
All this tension, no comprehension
Losing yourself in delusional dimensionsI don't know why you're wasting your own time
I don't know how you see this when you're not bleeding with me
Is believing in me, with nothingness in everything
You're leaving with meI don't know why you're changing all the time
You're trying to slow down and fall behind
All this tension, no comprehension
Losing yourself in delusional dimensions
