

Double You Es

Silage

Another cover falls down, you see
And you're all, "You've got to be joking
Is this all you are?" So far you're lost inside And can I take a walk on the shore?
It's the end of the earth
I can't see anymore but I've got to be free
Jump over a cliff I can't see And it's taking me time to figure it out
I'm not sure what it's all about
My decision is near
My security's here If I fold, I could ruin my chance of life
Take a look at my invitation
Take a look at my dream vacation
Her dress was so pretty Another cover falls down, you see
And you're all, "You've got to be joking
Is this all you are?" So far you're lost inside And you've never had it good
Never had it so good
And you're all, "I've never had it so good"
And you're all, "I need time to justify her" I need time to justify her
I'm tired, I'm thinking, I'm singing
Don't look at me
Help me, pick me up, throw me down I guess I'm asking for you to help me
Pick me up
