

When You're Single

Chuck Wicks

You can go out, have a drink or two
And get real good at shootin pool
Stay out as late as you want to
When youre single You can take a trip to Vegas any day
Pick any coast and go catch some waves
Everybody says youve got it made
When youre single Til youre comin home to an empty house
Chips on the sofa, just thinking about
What you had, what it was
Made you let her slip right through your hands
When youre single, youll trade it all to fall in love again Its not easy knowing that you walked away from it all
I bet shes out with somebody just laughing
Taking every bit of life on in
And now shes falling for him While youre comin home to an empty house
Chips on the sofa, just thinking about
What you had and what it was
Made you let her slip right through your hands
When youre single, youll trade it all to fall in love again When youre single, when youre single Youll trade it all to fall in love again
Yeah, I'm single, I'd trade it all to have you back again
Oh yes, I would
