Laminated Cat

Jeff Tweedy

Springtime comes and the leaves are back on the trees again
The snipers are harder to see my friend
Weeding out your weekendsSummer comes the gravity undoes you You're happy because the lovely way the sunshine bends Hiding in the deep end weeding out your weekendCandy left over from Halloween
The Unified theory of everything
Love left over from lovers leaving
Books they all know they're not worth reading
It's not for the season
When autumn comes you sit in your chair and you stare at the TV Square Hiding from your close friends
Weeding out your weekendsWhen winter comes the days off start late
There's Motion on the boughs were the dark shapes prowl
Feeling all your feelings feeling all your feeling
Candy left over from Halloween
The Unified theory of everything
Love left over from lovers leaving
Books they all know they're not worth reading they're not worth reading
