

Diary of a Stranger

Bloodhound Gang

I came from Dusseldorf chased by the night.
You were a vision drenched in neon light.
The longing in my sad eyes caught your fleeting glance
As chaos on the boulevard stole our romance
Barfing into a toilet full of strangers' diarrhea.
Barfing into a toilet full of strangers' diarrhea.
LOST! Two ships passing in the night.
You shit then I ralphed up my fries.
But not just any old fries....but french fries.
PARIS! Whispers in foreign tongues from the shadows
Lead to a path of lies, my thought's hope chose
Fooled again and yet I search forevermore
My love will last 1,000 years, like this cold war
Barfing into a toilet full of strangers' diarrhea.
Barfing into a toilet full of strangers' diarrhea.
LOST(...lost...lost) Diarrhea.
Diarrhea.
Some people think it's gross but it's really good on toast.
Diarrhea.
Diarrhea.
Some people think it's funny but it's brown and hot and runny. (She said.)
Barfing into a toilet full of strangers' diarrhea.
Barfing into a toilet full of strangers' diarrhea. Think of the future we lost, the life we will never know.
Winter reminds me of you as does a sloppy joe. Think of the future we lost, the life we will never know.
(Barfing into a toilet Barfing into a toilet.)
Winter reminds me of you.
(Barfing into a toilet full of strangers' diarrhea.) Two ships passing in the night.
You shit then I ralphed up my fries.
Two ships passing in the night.
You shit...
PANIC.
