Earthbound

Machinae Supremacy

Sometimes I curse that I was
born a cripple
to the sky I'm under
bound by my two feet
I walk the road paved
by our evolution
grinding my illusions
this earth is not for meBut in my mind's eye,
a vision of ourselves
in our cradle of dust and stoneI nurse a single dream, a memory
one I can't remember
and I am not alone
I wake from my suspended animation
deprived of my creation
just like a droneBut in my mind's eye,
a vision of ourselves
as the blind leads the fallenSometimes I curse that I was
to the sky I'm under
forged to inprison me Somewhere in time I'll wreck these chains around me
even those inside me
blasting my way freeBut in my mind's eye,
a vision of ourselves
as we leave this time
and place behind
