

Big Tall Man

Liz Phair

I'm a big tall man, I cut the grass
My left eye hurts
I am waiting and reading parts
I can be a complicated communicator Yes I'm winning, spinning
I feel energy bein' pulled off from all sides
And it feels good
Like relieving a headache Zeus and Athens, Florida driveway
Asphalt and tires, sand and the beach
Rocker panel, headlights in the dark
I'm drag racing, drag Yes I'm winning, spinning
I feel energy bein' pulled off from all sides
And it feels good
Like relieving a headache Yes I'm winning, spinning
I feel energy bein' pulled off from all sides
And it feels good
Like relieving a headache Fog and the distance beyond it
Boats and the quiet morning noises
I'm walking the shoreline A beer and a cigarette
A bug with twitching antennae
A button up short sleeved shirt Yes I'm winning, spinning
I feel energy bein' pulled off from all sides
And it feels good
Like relieving a headache I'm a big tall man, I cut the grass
My left eye hurts
I can be a complicated communicator Yes I'm winning, spinning
I feel energy bein' pulled off from all sides
And it feels good
Like relieving a headache Yes I'm winning, spinning
(Yes, I'm careening down)
I feel energy bein' pulled off from all sides
(Winding the canyons, now)
And it feels good
(Yes, I am broadcasting myself)
Like relieving a headache Yes I'm winning, spinning
(Yes, I'm careening down)
I feel energy bein' pulled off from all sides
(Winding the canyons, now)
And it feels good
(Yes, I am broadcasting myself)

Like relieving a headache
