Every Moment

Jet Black Stare

Nervous standing at his door
She knocks, he lets her in
The flame that flickered long before
When they were only kids
Just one thing, The thought in side her head
She turns to him and looks at her and saysEvery moment in your life
Comes down to what you hold inside
Looking back on days gone by
Id always think of you
Take a picture from the past
And try to make the moment last
I wish I would have told you
I just wanna hold you tonight (tonight) x2The living room they start to talk
The memories flooding in
Of drinking in the parking lot
And dances in the gym
Just one thing, The thought in side her head
She turns to him and looks at her and saysEvery moment in your life
Comes down to what you hold inside
Looking back on days gone by
Id always think of you
Take a picture from the past
And try to make the moment last
I wish I would have told you
I just wanna hold you tonight (tonight) x2Many nights he lied awake thinking the moments passed him by
But they hold on to the memories
Its so hardEvery moment in our lives
Comes down to what we hold inside
Looking back on days gone by
Id always think of youEvery moment in your life
Comes down to what you hold inside
Looking back on days gone by
Id always think of you
Take a picture from the past
And try to make the moment last
I wish I would have told you
I just wanna hold you tonightI just wanna hold you tonight (x4)
