

Origin of Love

Hedwig and the Angry Inch

When the earth was still flat
And the clouds made of fire
And mountains stretched up to the sky
    Sometimes higher
Folks roamed the earth
    Like big rolling kegs
They had two sets of arms
They had two sets of legs
They had two faces peering
    Out of one giant head
So they could watch all around them
    As they talked while they read
And they never knew nothing of love
    It was before the origin of love
The origin of loveAnd there were three sexes then
    One that looked like two men
        Glued up back to back
    Called the children of the sun
    And similar in shape and girth
    Were the children of the earth
        They looked like two girls
        Rolled up in one
    And the children of the moon
    Were like a fork shoved on a spoon
        They were part sun, part earth
        Part daughter, part son
The origin of loveNow the gods grew quite scared
    Of our strength and defiance
        And Thor said
        'I'm gonna kill them all
        With my hammer
        Like I killed the giants.'
        But Zeus said, 'No
        You better let me
    Use my lightening, like scissors
    Like I cut the legs off the whales
        And dinosaurs into lizards.'
    Then he grabbed up some bolts
        And he let out a laugh

Said, 'I'll split them right down the middle
Gonna cut them right up in half.'
And then storm clouds gathered above
    Into great balls of fire
    And then fire shot down
    From the sky in bolts
    Like shining blades
    Of a knife
    And it ripped
    Right through the flesh
    Of the children of the sun
    And the moon
And the earthAnd some Indian god
    Sewed the wound up into a hole
    Pulled it round to our belly
    To remind us of the price we pay
And Osiris and the gods of the Nile
    Gathered up a big storm
    To blow a hurricane
    To scatter us away
    In a flood of wind and rain
    And a sea of tidal waves
    To wash us all away
    And if we don't behave
    They'll cut us down again
And we'll be hopping round on one foot
And looking through one eyeLast time I saw you
    We had just split in two
    You were looking at me
    I was looking at you
    You had a way so familiar
    But I could not recognize
    Cause you had blood on your face
    I had blood in my eyes
But I could swear by your expression
    That the pain down in your soul
Was the same as the one down in mine
    That's the pain
    Cuts a straight line
    Down through the heart
We called it loveSo we wrapped our arms around each other
    Trying to sew ourselves back together
    We were making love
    Making love
    It was a cold dark evening

Such a long time ago
When by the mighty hand of Jove
It was the sad story
How we became
Lonely two-legged creatures
It's the story of
The origin of love
That's the origin of love

Random Number Generation
All our feelings and thoughts
Expressed in ones and in oughts
In endless spiraling chains
You can't decode or explain
Cause you are so analog
God dog I eye I god dog

We're the random number generation
We are random number generated
We are random numbers

In the regime of the solid state
Wheels spin when you iterate
K is x squared minus one
But .54321
When x is taken times two

That's when we're coming for you

We're the random number generation

Mister Little started something huge
Iggy Pop Iggy Stooge
All the children shout out

Hey here we are

We're the random number generation
