

Dove-Coloured Sky (Feat. Jimmy Gnecco)

Neverending White Lights

The last opened vein was a call to your savior you ended
Lost but in time I knew you would end this like you meant it Please say you know that, you know that You'll grow cold tonight, you'll grow old and dieA dove colored sky awaits your entrance, but you're helpless
So you wait
And I've seen your face
I've seen you change, and now it's all the samePlease say you know that, you know thatIt's true we're always covering our lies
Like a body slowly dies
Bound to fall you call your angels down
But she won't be there: no
Some of us change
Some of us just grow so strange
