

Yield to Temptation (Session) [Remaster]

After Forever

They told you not to yield to temptation
And opened their arms,
Make your own inferences...Inscrutable chaos in my head, inevitably
Greed will take its toll
Why?
There's no place to hide
Let me free myselfThe anathema's driving millions,
Together in the pustules of our earth
Greed and self-denial,
The cause of unimpeded desecration of the truthThey told you not to yield to temptation,
But offered you only hypocrisy and ruinThe phantom of damnation
Threw her coat over humanityThey told you not to yield to temptation,
But offered you only hypocrisy and ruinThey told you not to yield to temptation,
But offered you only hypocrisy and ruinCaptive in the shackles of this indoctrination,
Depraved souls wished to be pure
Delight in deformity,
The last convulsions are building up
A bridge to a new eraThe assumption of a faded supposition,
Never shall I be a marionetteThe embrace that smothers...
