

Behind the Mask

Goldfinger

It's funny to think I trusted you
It's funny to think that I have
Spent my whole damn life supporting youIt's funny that I believed in you
It's funny I thought that you'd be
There if I should ever call on youSo now I'm jaded
Friends turn to enemiesNow that I know that you work for them
Now that I know your life is Based around such lies and corporate greedYou only believe what you are told
You only defend laws that are old
Because it's law don't make it rightSo now I'm jaded
Friends turn to enemiesAll my life I've done what I've been asked
So who is right? The one behind the maskSo now I'm jaded
Friends turn to enemiesIt's funny to think I trusted you
It's funny to think that I have
Spent my whole damn life supporting youIt's funny that I believed in you
It's funny I thought that you'd be
There if I should ever call on youAll my life I've done what I've been asked
So who is right? The one behind the maskAll my life I've done what I've been asked?
So who is right? The one behind the mask
