

This Is the Day

Ivy

Sooner or later, she feels the morning come
Isn't it safer, dark thoughts all gone
What a sensation, she has made it one more tomorrow
Raising up her eyes to a brand new sky
She knows the truth at last, she's never coming back
She'll be gone, so many years
She'll be gone, melting away
She'll be gone, this is the day
Someone is walking up to the bedroom door
Hearing him knocking, she knows what it's for She's at the window, wondering why there is no one to save her
Raising up her eyes to a brand new sky
She knows the truth at last, she's never coming back
She'll be gone, so many years
She'll be gone, melting away
She'll be gone, this is the day
Raising up her eyes to a brand new sky
She knows the truth at last, she's never coming back
She'll be gone, so many years
She'll be gone, melting away
She'll be gone, this is the day
She'll be gone, so many years
She'll be gone, melting away
She'll be gone, this is the day
