

Damnation

Evergrey

                  All is gone
                  And my soul screams sorrow
                  All is lost
                  As I shiver for tomorrow
                  TomorrowI want to see this sorrow end
                  I want to feel joy again
                  The demons inside are here to stay
And life as know it fades awayWill the wounds in me never heal
                  The scares you left always be
                  Dare you turn behold the hurt you've done
All I wish for you is DamnationI want to see this sorrow end
                  I want to feel joy again
                  The demons inside are here to stay
And life as know it fades awayI want to see this sorrow end
                  I want to feel joy again
                  The demons inside are here to stay
And life as know it fades awayFades away...
