

Another Kind of Green

John Mayer Trio

Sara's friend, she lost her mind
She left him and made it look sexy now
I fear you won't be far behind
Thinking I'll be the next to leave I know I might be anxious
But I'm still not crazy And I don't need another kind of green to know
I'm on the right side, I'm on the right side with you I used to be the one you saw
While crying alone to sad songs
But then we go and we hit the wall
When nothing is changed and nothing's wrong You're not the perfect hand
But I don't hit on nineteen And I don't need another kind of green to know
I'm on the right side, I'm on the right side with you
With you, yeah yeah So go and drift away from me, adopt some new philosophy
Doesn't hold the two of us in mind
Move into someone else's place, stare into some other's eyes
But slowly only come to realize That you didn't need another kind of green to know
I'm on the right side, you're on the right side
I'm on the right side with you Oh, I was on the right side
You don't need to lose it to know that you had it good
You don't need to lose it to know that you had it good, no, no
You don't need to lose it to know that you had it
Know that you had it, know that you had it
Don't need to lose it to know that you had it good, ooh
