Behind The Mask

Goldfinger

It's funny to think I trusted you
It's funny to think that I have
Spent my whole damn life supporting you
It's funny that I believed in you
It's funny I thought that you'd be
There if I should ever call on you
So now I'm jaded
Friends turn to enemies
Now that I know that you work for them
Now that I know your life is Based around such lies and corporate greed
You only believe what you are told
You only defend laws that are old
Because it's law don't make it right
So now I'm jaded
Friends turn to enemies

All my life I've done what I've been asked
So who is right? The one behind the mask
So now I'm jaded
Friends turn to enemies
It's funny to think I trusted you
It's funny to think that I have
Spent my whole damn life supporting you
It's funny that I believed in you
It's funny I thought that you'd be
There if I should ever call on you
All my life I've done what I've been asked
So who is right? The one behind the mask
All my life I've done what I've been asked?
So who is right? The one behind the mask

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/