Deftones

I kneel at the altar
Carve your name and
Hail to the gods
I've climbed your tree, I peeled your fruit
When I tasted your kiss How amazing that you were sent
Like you were molded out of thin air
Now, I don't want you to disappear
But I want you to carry us out here We sail through arc light
Attach the wings
And wait for the gods
We found your grail, we drank your juice
And we tasted your gift I will wait here one thousand years
I will choose to immerse in your eyes
I've seen the truth and I know your strength
I have watched your great ascent Now we sing
Now we sing your praises
And now we face the sky, the sky, sky, sky On top of the crux
I've climbed every rung
To bathe in your sunlight I kneel at the altar
I promised you I would stay to the end
I will hold and praise and feel your truth Let us
Drink to the gods
I will sing
I will sing your praises
I will scream
I will scream your praises
