Yet I Sin

Jason Waller

Verse 1:
You are good beyond my highest thought.
But Iâ€™m poor, I am wretched, I am blind.
My lips are ready to confess my sin.
But my heart is slow to feel the pulls to change.

Pre-chorus:
I have fallen short.
I have cursed your name.
Sin has been my word.
Death will be my wage.

Chorus
Only you can raise a dead man, from the grave.
Only you can cause a rebel, to walk in your ways.
So I come, desperate for your grace.

Verse 2:
My eyes have seen your law is beautiful.
And joyful are the ones who keep your ways.
Yet I sin again and break the heart.
Of the spirit who dwells in me by your grace.

Pre chorus:
I have fallen short
I have cursed your name
Sin has been my word
Death will be my wage

Chorus x2:
Only you can raise a dead man, from the grave
Only you can cause a rebel, to walk in your ways
So I come desperate for your grace.

Tag:
Desperate for your grace

Bridge 1:
Iâ€™m desperate for you.
I cry mercy, mercy.

Take my sin from me.
Mercy God have mercy.
To the cross I cling.

Bridge 2:
Mercy, mercy.
Take my sin from me.
Mercy, God have mercy.
To the cross I cling.

Chorus:
Only you can raise a dead man, from the grave.
Only can cause a rebel, to a walk in your ways.
So I come, desperate for your grace.
