

Statues

Moloko

So goodnight my dear
Hope youre feeling well
Hope yourre feeling very clear
In this song and rhyme
Thoughts of changes that
Keep ourselves intact And yes its hard to fake
But Im faltering in the steps Im about to take
I am sure, its true
What is all for me is much the same to you If all the statues in the world
Would turn to flesh with teeth of pearl
Would they be kind enough to comfort me
The setting sun is set in stone
And it remains for me alone
To carve my own and set it free So we wait and see
How this backward chapter reads
In verse inadvertently
And it feels like fading light
But thats all thats left
Only whats left is right If all the statues in the world
Would turn to flesh with teeth of pearl
Would they be kind enough to comfort me
The setting sun is set in stone
And it remains for me alone
To carve my own and set it free Jumping from a balloon
A carried aloft by a parachute in June
Twisting round and round
Well I hope the ground is what you find The setting sun is set in stone
And it remains for me alone
To carve my own and set it free

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>