

Stolen

The Veer Union

Now that I'm
Caving in
Ive found that I'm
Bent and broken
Now this heart of mine you've stolen
These expressions left on my face.
They'll speak louder than words that you'll ever know
You're the one I cannot replace
Now I know that you see I'm so vulnerable.

Now that I'm
Caving in
Ive found that I'm
Bent and broken
Cannot hide feelings in
This heart of mine that you've stolen
Now this heart of mine you've stolen
I collapse into your arms where
Well I'm weak and I fall for you after all
And I'm fighting locked up feelings
And I know you're the key to unlock it all

Now that I'm
Caving in
Ive found that I'm
Bent and broken
Cannot hide feelings in
This heart of mine you've stolen
Words unspoken have cut me open
Please tell my soul where you took it from me
I'm completely lost and empty
I can't move on, I don't want to believe
That this heart of mine you've stolen
(Please tell my soul where you took it from me)

Now that I'm
Caving in
Ive found that I'm
Bent and broken
Cannot hide feelings in
This heart of mine you've stolen
These expressions left on my face

(please tell my soul where you took it from me)

I collapse in to your arms where

(I can't move on, I don't want to believe)

That this heart of mine you've stolen.
