I'm In Love With You

Steve Forbert

Pick me up, shake me out
And hang me on your line
I'm a fool for youI looked up, saw you smile
And then I saw your eyes
I'm in love with youYou're too much for me
I'm a worn-out sail
On the sidewalk seaThere's a light
There's a fire shining day and night
It came burning throughShine on me, shine on down
You keep me high and dry
I'm in love with youYou're too much for me
I'm a worn-out sail
On the sidewalk seaToo many faces
Breaking aces half in two
Sun rising scarlet
Sinking further down in blueEyes on the sidewalk
They're raging angry flashing true
Baby, it's too many mornings
Waking lonely calling youTime goes by
You break on down
You can't keep holding on
You don't know what to doI looked up, saw you smile
I know I'm not so strong
No, and I'm in love with youYou're too much for me
I'm a worn-out sail
On the sidewalk sea
