

Tell Me Your Name (Instrumental)

Christian Bautista

Tell me your name you're lovely please tell me your name just when i thought this could one of those boring games you walked into this feelings you looked at me and smiled my heart unfroze and started going wildcan you imagine this the confusion of first love's kiss a return to wondering if the magic of love was this you merely said "hello" and my mind did a stop and go can it possibly be the future for me is you tell me your name i must know won't you tell me your name i'm not insane just frightened that you might go don't go please stay beside me and wait 'till i can tell you all my schemes chasing rainbows spinning dreams finding someone to love like you...
