Million Watts

Ty Law

yeah yeah
yeah. and this is everyday layin' in my apartment and I'm scoffin' at my alarm when it went off, cause I'm exhausted.
I skip the waffles and I'm walkin' to my car and I hop in it, and I hop in it, I'm not acknowledgin' my speedometer.
Charge up to the office, I'm robotic as I wander through my thoughts and I'm ponderin' my subconscious. I am starvin' to be (unknown) game
The three-O-pipin' really likin' what i'm recitin' imma tight and with a mic, but i've been advised that they ain't vibin' with my type i don't really hype 'em. but its time to come up from the underground like a (unknown) but they get so deep imma end up in china.
flow kickin like a bicycle (unknown) ripin' his rivals (unknown) inside a tornado hitting 'em bison.
then I feel the adrenaline when I'm pennin' it.
Enterin' into a new dimension when I'm assemblin' sentences, mentally feelin' (unknown) I been into space;
time continuum . . .(nvm I give up)
