Ode To The Sun

dredg

It's gone from light to grey
But I'll move those clouds away
Letting the sun shine through
In this ode to youLet the demons have their place
If so its angels you'll create
And disguised within the dark
Light will waitMy heart, i owe you my soulWill you please accept
Please accept this offer
This is all for you
TranscendWe flip towards the sun
Wheels skidding on the road
A flowing sea of red
The whole city groansMy heart, I owe you my soulWill you please accept
Please accept this offer
This is all for you
TranscendWill you please accept
Please accept this offer This is all for you
TranscendFiascoRubber neck passing motorist
Mangled tuna-can car rests
Repair this tattered skin
Hold it in your hand
You've already glistened through the window
You've already set us all free, free, freePlease accept
Please accept this offer
This is all for you
Transcend
Will you please accept
Please accept this offer
This is all for you
