Silent Words

Scars of Life

Inside alone
this world's coming down on me again Nowhere to run to as these twisted thoughts flow through my head I never wanted to break away Can't help that I don't feel the same And now I'm standing here asking myself if I'm to blameThese silent words you'll never hear These frozen thoughts will not appear
And I'm breaking down inside of me Still no one seesI stare into myself I'm scared of what I just might find A reflection of my past something I've always tried to hide Now my life is coming apart
Why must I always be this way?
Now I'm standing here
asking myself if I'm to blameThese silent words you'll never hear
These frozen thoughts will not appear
And I'm breaking down inside of me
Still no one seesI can no longer take this
The pain that lives inside of me Must find a way to erase this
So I can finally breatheThese silent words you'll never hear
These frozen thoughts will not appear
And I'm breaking down inside of me
Still no one sees
