Average Man

Turin Brakes

If I was a farmer
Instead of a faker
If I was a realer
Not just some rakerRaking through a memory
That just doesn't belong to me
Just someone I could've been
If I only kept walkingHave another drink my son
Enjoy another cigarette
'Cos it's time you realized
You're just an average manAlone on a motorway
Catch your breath
Cat's eyes lead everyway
To lonesomenessSince you learn to hide your fears
And downsize your dreams
Still alive, still sincere
Inside the schemeHave another drink my son
Enjoy another cigarette
'Cos it's time you realized
You're just an average manIf this is darkness here
And if this is darkness, comingHave another drink my son
Enjoy another cigarette
'Cos it's time you realized
You're just an average man
