Average Man

Turin Brakes

If I was a farmer Instead of a faker If I was a realer Not just some rakerRaking through a memory That just doesn't belong to me Just someone I could've been If I only kept walkingHave another drink my son Enjoy another cigarette 'Cos it's time you realized You're just an average manAlone on a motorway Catch your breath Cat's eyes lead everyway To lonesomenessSince you learn to hide your fears And downsize your dreams Still alive, still sincere Inside the schemeHave another drink my son Enjoy another cigarette 'Cos it's time you realized You're just an average manIf this is darkness here And if this is darkness, comingHave another drink my son Enjoy another cigarette 'Cos it's time you realized You're just an average man
