

Love Never Dies

Mr Hudson

I still hear you,

I still see you

When I close my eyes

I could still feel you

And I still want you,

Love never dies

Love...love...love never dies

Love...love...love never dies

We must have sat upon an old bench

For ten long summers

First it was weed, girls and football,

Then it was greed and birds and alcohol

I won't forget the night that

We just couldn't make you listen

You thought you were always right

But you were so, so wrong you were so headstrong,

And now you're gone

But I still hear you

I still feel you

When I close my eyes,

I still need you

And we still want you,

You see, love never dies

Love...love...love never dies

Love...love...love never dies

Your motorbike is resting

Abandoned by the playground

Because it was throwing rocks and climbing trees now it's pushing rocks and transfer fees

Memories are fading

Like music in the distance,

Why did you leave the party so, so soon

You should be here with me when I play that tune

I still hear you

I still see you when I close my eyes

Love never dies

Love never dies

Love...love...love never dies

Love...love...love never dies.
