

In Fear of Fear

Bauhaus

You fear the lesson
And fear to walk
And fear to pass on
Your fear to talk The teacher was feared
Your parents too
Then you became
The fear of you, fear, fear Look to yourself
Climb over the wall
And see behind
That you're not so small Then you won't blame fear
When competing's too much
As you fall on your back
As you fail to touch, fear, fear, fear And I say to you
Whose fear is strong
When you fear your life
Then your fear is wrong Set free your past
So shredding the skin
Then you won't fear
The fear of sin, fear, fear, fear
