Devil's Money

Dana Immanuel

Raining night in Monte, there are things you just can't buy
Using concious or a sturdy leash to woe the wandering eye.
Lot's of plans compare to kissing everything you know goodbye
How High is too High?
You are a stupid little girl and you make all the big boys cry.
While they're queuing up to take a shot they couldn't tell you why,
That's the price you pay for being the queen bee among the flies
See, how high is too high?

And as a dark cloud out above you, oh
Swirling blackness where there should be sky.
You imagine that you are soaring up above it all
But baby, how high is too high?

You'll be in trouble, if like me, you believe everything you hear
A 'specability' legitimacy is just a venere
Just below the surface it's the same 'ol mix of greed and lies
Say, how high is too high?

And as a dark cloud out above you, oh
Swirling blackness where there should be sky.
You imagine that you are soaring up above it all
But baby, how high is too high?

Take the Devil's money and the Devil treat you well.
Take the Devil at his word and you'll go straight to hell.
Take the Devil's money and the Devil treat you well.
Take the Devil at his word and you go straight to hell.

And over Monte Carlo Bay there is a storm that won't subside
When the lightning hits the 'county mall' the gamblers get fried
When the Devil comes to take them, he just look around and sigh
Say, how high is too high?

And as a dark cloud out above you, oh
Swirling blackness where there should be sky.
You imagine that you are soaring up above it all
But baby, how high is too high?

Take the Devil's money and the Devil treat you well.

Take the Devil at his word and you'll go straight to hell.
Take the Devil's money and the Devil treat you well.
Take the Devil at his word and you go straight to hell.

And as a dark cloud out above you, oh
Swirling blackness where there should be sky.
You imagine that you are soaring up above it all
But baby, how high is too high, oh.
How high is too high?

(The words in ' ' are the ones i'm unsure of, I gave it my best and slowing down the song with audio software didn't help. I'd be glad if anyone understands those words and tells me :D) - Sansu
